

IPIFF Annual Conference

Empowering Europe: Food Security, Bioeconomy & Insects

The International Platform of Insects for Food and Feed (IPIFF) will hold its Annual Conference on 15 November 2023.

On behalf of the IPIFF Secretariat, we are pleased to present to you the current sponsorship opportunities for the event. The IPIFF Annual Conference gives companies and organizations the unique opportunity to profile themselves, and rub shoulders with Europe's foremost C-level executives in the insect-production sector, as well as with high-level EU Agri policy-makers.

Sponsorship Packages:

- Full sponsorship: This option offers sponsors a stand beside the main conference hall. The company logo, as well as a short description (up to 50 words), will be displayed on all IPIFF communication materials (e.g. programme, email marketing, social media), as well as on the IPIFF website. The company will be mentioned in the introductory and concluding speeches of the conference. A company video can be broadcast during the coffee and lunch breaks (3 mins maximum).
Price: 1,250 EUR for IPIFF Members, 1,500 EUR for non-members.
- Associated sponsorship: This option offers the same benefits as the full sponsorship, however, without the company standing beside the main conference hall.
Price: 750 EUR for IPIFF Members, 1,000 EUR for non-members.
- Gold sponsorship: This option offers the same benefits as the full sponsorship on top of which, the sponsoring organisation will be offered a speaking slot in one of the panel debates at the end of each session.
Price: 2,000 EUR for IPIFF Members, 2,500 EUR for non-members.
